

Good morning all – Sadly following the recent information schools will close tomorrow, and as you know today would have been third VIAM concert this year!

It is hard to believe that the concerts have been postponed, but we believe it was definitely the only decision possible.

Therefore whilst we continue to work towards rescheduling our dates, it would be lovely to receive videos of your school singing before you break up tomorrow –

We would then post your videos on our facebook page – Last night I did our regular facebook live and will continue to do this weekly to update everyone and also stay in touch –

Any children who want to send videos of themselves rehearsing at home during the school closures are more than welcome and indeed we would be delighted to receive as many as possible!

Stay safe everyone and we look forward to confirming our new dates and seeing you all there –

Regards
Jo
